

political involvement policy

Adopted by the Board of Directors in Akelius Residential Property AB (publ) 2021-06-30.
Renewed on 2023-12-28.

Akelius does not engage in influencing actions, policies, or decisions of government officials, legislators or members of regulatory agencies.

The company prohibits political involvement such as monetary funding of a certain political agenda or person on behalf of Akelius.

The company views any populist leaders, right or left wing activists and dictators as a threat to business and avoids investing in any city located in a non-democratic country which is not governed by the rule of law.

Akelius respects employees' freedom of political participation. Personal political activities of employees must be clearly distinguished from Akelius' business.

Employees must not use their worktime and any Akelius' funds and resources for personal political activities and personal political contributions.
